

EXERCISE IS ESSENTIAL TO MENTAL, PHYSICAL, AND EMOTIONAL HEALTH... BUT EXERCISE HAS A DARK SIDE.

Both aerobic and anaerobic exercises can rob the body of critical cellular contributors, leading to free-radical damage. Free-radicals cause oxidative stress on your body. In the material world, oxidation breaks down metals with rust. In human biology, oxidative stress can result in damaged cell membranes, degraded DNA, impaired metabolism, lead to aging, and other adverse health conditions. It's vital to have the proper nutrition to replace what exercise expends.

NATURE'S POWERHOUSE

The entire plant is contained within a seed before it sprouts. Not coincidentally, seeds, contain the most robust form of plant nutrients and are the foundation of all of our products at Rain International.

Rain preserves the powerful benefits of seeds through a cold press process that uses the whole seed to make its nutrition more palatable and efficacious. This process is minimal, gentle, and doesn't subject the seeds to chemicals or high heat which can weaken its nutritive effects. The result is a maximum concentration of nutrition, including antioxidants, phytosteroids, essential fatty acids, phospholipids, and dissolved minerals.

For example, with SOUL supplement, you get Black Raspberry Seeds and Black Cumin Seeds, which support the immune system.* You also get concentrated forms of Omega-3 and Omega-6 essential fatty acids. This ingredient combination synergizes to fight the harmful effects of free-radicals and helps repair cell membranes.*

SEEDS are the unsung heroes in the healthful foods we should be eating every day, and they are the premier ingredient in this remarkable product.

BLACK CUMIN SEED

Black cumin seed has a reputation for being a powerful anti-inflammatory. Thousands of scientific studies of this singular seed confirm its wide-use applications and health-benefiting properties. Black cumin seed use has expanded into support of the digestive tract and respiratory system and to boost the immune system.

BLACK RASPBERRY SEED

Raspberries are among the top ten high-antioxidant fruits and vegetables. These antioxidants help to fight free-radicals which cause damage at the cellular level, leading to many of the different health and wellness threats that affect or will affect every person on earth.

CHARDONNAY GRAPE SEED

Chardonnay grape seed is another powerful antioxidant with anti-inflammatory benefits. It also helps weight loss and may assist in supporting cholesterol and blood pressure already within normal range. Soul's blend of chardonnay grape seed, black raspberry seed and black cumin seed yields a synergistic effect, complementing the benefits of each.
